INTRODUCTION

Dear Educators and Leaders,

The Alaska Department of Health (DOH) has developed the Red Ribbon Week Teacher Toolkit for schools and would like to extend an invitation to participate in our Door Decorating Contest. I am personally thrilled to offer our educators, administrators, school nurses, students, and families this resource and opportunity, as we find new ways to come together and collectively respond to the rising public health crisis related to opioid overdoses and deaths in Alaska.

Schools serve as the heart of Alaska's communities and are in a unique position to take action. This toolkit provides resources and guidance to:

NEW THIS YEAR: Red Ribbon Week Door Decorating Contest

- Integrate prevention education into classrooms, equipping students with the knowledge they need to stay safe.
- Support parents in having positive and effective conversations about these challenging topics at home.
- Have fun creating unique door designs that encourage students to live drug-free, with the opportunity to win exciting prizes!

As Red Ribbon Week approaches, we look forward to seeing how you incorporate the Teacher Toolkit into your efforts. It is designed to help you engage students in prevention education and foster a safe, healthy learning environment. Together, we can make a difference in protecting our youth from the dangers they face today. Your commitment and dedication are key to the success of our students!

Thank you for your ongoing partnership,

NAVIGATING CONVERSATIONS

Conversations between educators and youth can be challenging at times, especially when it comes to developing skills that encourage youth to make healthy choices. The following are examples of topics to discuss with children under the age of 8. Be sure to decide age-appropriateness of topics, which depends on the young person and their experiences.

- Healthy Choices: Making good choices, like eating healthy, staying active, and getting enough sleep, helps you stay strong and feel your best.

- Coping: When you feel stressed or upset, it's okay to talk about your feelings and ask for help. Find ways to calm down by doing things you enjoy.

- Medicines: Only take medicine if a parent, caregiver, or doctor gives it to you. Taking too much can hurt you.

- Candy Look-Alikes: Don't eat things that look like candy if you find them. Some medicines look like candy but are dangerous.

- Dangerous Products: Stay away from harmful household products because they can hurt your body.

- Addiction: If you have questions about addiction, ask a trusted adult. They can help you understand in a way that makes sense to you.

GO BEYOND CONVERSATION

Parents and trusted adults can nurture positive elements to help prevent drug use. These can include:

Keeping a strong connection with their child and keeping communication open..

Teaching them to handle social situations, solve problems, and stick up for what they believe.

Guiding them to take part in activities that help them grow, align with their community's values, and connect positive role models.

Encouraging them to surround themselves with friends who make healthy choices.

Empowering them to feel in control of their lives and capable of dealing with changes.

Providing appropriate supervision to ensure their safety and well-being.

Teachers, collaborate with your school's administration to develop a plan if you suspect a student is under the influence. Every school in Alaska is equipped with two doses of naloxone and training materials are available on the Department of Education's website.

SAMPLE LETTER/EMAIL TO FAMILIES

PARENT NOTIFICATION SAMPLE FORM (ENGLISH)

Dear Parents and/or Guardians,

Our school district is participating in substance use prevention programs for elementary students.

Research shows that starting prevention education early can help reduce substance use in high school. Our goal is to support your child’s healthy growth and learning throughout their education.

Scan the QR code below for a brochure from the U.S. Department of Justice and the U.S. Department of Education called Growing Up Drug Free – A Parent’s Guide to Prevention. It explains why starting substance use prevention early is important.

The program will teach kids about how the brain and lungs work, along with lessons on emotional health. Everything will be age-appropriate and use language your child already knows.

SAMPLE SPIRIT WEEK DAYS & CONVERSATION STARTERS

OCTOBER
23

“Superhero Day” (Prevention)

Spirit Theme: Dress like your favorite superhero to show your superpowers of making healthy choices.

Discussion Topics:

- o Explain how superheroes make smart choices to help others. Talk about how making healthy choices—like avoiding harmful substances—makes students real-life heroes!
- o Heroes help protect their communities from harm, just like how we make smart choices to avoid dangerous things like drugs. Talk about how law enforcement and community helpers are like heroes keeping harmful substances away from us.

24

“Team Up Against Drugs” (Prevention)

Spirit Theme: Wear your favorite team’s jersey to show we’re all part of the team that says NO to drugs.

Discussion Topics:

- o Introduce the idea of avoiding risky behaviors that can harm our bodies. Discuss how we care for ourselves by choosing healthy activities instead of drugs.

OCTOBER
28

“Crazy Hair, We Care!” (Harm Reduction)

Spirit Theme: Everyone wears red to show support for making good choices and staying healthy.

Discussion Topics:

- o Talk about the importance of teamwork and how friends can help each other stay healthy and safe by saying no to drugs.
- o Discuss how working together—just like a team—helps everyone make good choices. Friends and family are part of our team, helping us stay safe from harmful substances like drugs and alcohol.

OCTOBER
29

“Wear Red Day” (Treatment)

Spirit Theme: Show off your wildest hair to show that you care about making healthy decisions.

Discussion Topics:

- o Talk about the importance of teamwork and how friends can help each other stay healthy and safe by saying no to drugs.
- o Discuss how making a mistake is okay, and there are people who can help if someone makes a bad choice. Emphasize the importance of asking for help when needed. Treatment helps people get better, just like how we go to the doctor when we’re sick.

OCTOBER
30

“Our Future is Bright!” (Recovery)

Spirit Theme: Wear bright colors to celebrate a bright, drug-free future.

Discussion Topics:

- o Talk about how people who have made unhealthy choices can recover and become stronger. Discuss how a drug-free lifestyle helps everyone build a better, healthier future. Talk about how making good choices now helps us grow up to do great things. People who have made mistakes can still have bright futures by getting help and making healthy choices.

Why Participate?

The Red Ribbon Week Door Decorating Contest encourages teachers and students to work together to decorate their classroom doors based on this year's theme:

“Life is a Movie, Film Drug Free.”

Red Ribbon Week Decoration Contest Information

The Alaska Department of Health, in partnership with Governor Mike Dunleavy and other statewide partners, are excited to announce the launch of the Red Ribbon Week Door Decorating Contest, open to all schools across Alaska! This is a fantastic opportunity for your school to get involved in the nation's longest-running drug prevention campaign and inspire students to live healthy, drug-free lives.

By participating, your school can:

Spark meaningful conversations around the dangers of drugs and the importance of living drug-free.

Engage students in a fun and creative activity that promotes healthy choices.

Compete for a chance to win great prizes and statewide recognition!

How to Get Involved:

1

Decorate Your Door:

Collaborate with your students to create a movie-themed door that highlights the importance of living drug-free. We encourage you to incorporate imagery and messages that inspire students to make healthy choices.

2

Submit Your Photos:

Simply take photos of your decorated doors (no students in the photos, please!) and submit them to our contest portal:

Online Contest Portal Link.

3

Access Classroom Resources:

Collaborate with your students to create a movie-themed door that highlights the importance of living drug-free. We encourage you to incorporate imagery and messages that inspire students to make healthy choices.

Prizes & Recognition

Prizes:

Amazon gift cards and other great prizes will be given to the winning Elementary, Middle School and High School classroom.

Recognition:

Classrooms with the winning design will receive special recognition from Governor Dunleavy and/or Commissioner Hedberg!

■ Important Dates

Submission Period: October 1st – October 23rd, 2024

Winners Announced: Shortly after Red Ribbon Week begins
(October 23rd – October 31st)

We highly encourage all schools across Alaska to participate in this exciting campaign. Together, we can empower our students to live healthy, drug-free lives. Let's make this Red Ribbon Week unforgettable!

We look forward to seeing your creative entries!
