A. About the Farmers' Market Nutrition Programs

Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) FMNP

WIC is a federally funded health and nutrition program for women, infants, and children. WIC helps families by providing food assistance to buy nutritious supplemental foods from WIC-authorized vendors. WIC also provides nutrition education to participants. To qualify for the program, participants must meet the federal income guidelines, be nutritionally at-risk, and be pregnant, new mothers, infants, or children under age five (5).

WIC Farmers' Market Nutrition Program (FMNP)

Eligible WIC participants may also qualify for Alaska WIC Farmers' Market Nutrition Program (FMNP) benefits during the farmers' market season (July 1 – October 31). Since farmers' markets and farmstands are not available in every region of Alaska, WIC FMNP benefits are distributed to participants who live in a region with authorized farmer-vendors. Participants receive a QR Code to purchase fresh, nutritious, Alaskan grown produce from Alaska WIC-authorized farmer-vendors.

Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Program (SFMNP)

The SFMNP serves eligible senior citizens sixty (60) years of age and older who meet income and residency guidelines. Senior participants are provided with a QR Code that may be redeemed for fresh, nutritious, Alaskan grown and produced fruit, vegetables, herbs and honey sold by authorized farmer-vendors during the July 1 – October 31 season.

B. Farmer-Vendor and Farmers' Market Eligibility

Alaska FMNP and SFMNP QR Codes can only be accepted by authorized farmer-vendors at designated farmers' markets, farmstand and/or farm locations that have been approved by the State of Alaska WIC Program.

Who qualifies for the programs?

- A farm, either owned, leased, or rented by an individual producer which holds an active agricultural related Alaska business license.
- A farm or farmstand which grows at least one-third (33 percent) of the produce offered for sale at a farmers' market, farmstand or farm.
- A farmer-vendor whose produce offered for sale is clearly labelled. Labels must allow shoppers to easily identify Alaska grown produce and pre-tax sale price.
- A farmer, farmstand, and farmers' market that includes enough variety and quantity of produce to meet the demand of FMNP and SFMNP participants in the area served.
- A farmers' market, farmstand, or farm that is open for produce sales for a minimum of three hours on at least one consistent day every week for at least eight consecutive weeks during the season. These criteria must be met using a consistent location.
- A farmers' market, farmstand, or farm that is consistently located in an area that serves enough eligible FMNP, and/or SFMNP participants to justify the need for a farmers' market or farmstand. Determination is made by the State of Alaska WIC FMNP and SFMNP Program Coordinator.
- A farmers' market or farmstand that is in an area where the local WIC and/or Senior Agency is/are able to provide necessary services to administer the programs. Determination is made by the State of Alaska WIC FMNP and SFMNP Program Coordinator.
- A farmer who can meet the general program requirements beginning on page 5 of this Farmer Handbook.

Who does not qualify?

- Organizations and/or companies that are not owned by an individual and/or that primary purpose is not to grow and sell produce directly to the consumer.
- A farmer who grows less than 33 percent of the produce offered for sale.
- A farmer who sells only through Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) or similar.
- A farm, farmstand, or farmers' market that operates based on an honor payment system.
- A farmer, farmstand, and/or farmers' market which is in violation of other Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) programs such as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (previously known as Food Stamps).
- A farmer who is currently disqualified, sanctioned, or under investigation by the WIC and/or SNAP Programs.

C. Farmer-Vendor Authorization Process

Benefit Details:

Introducing and Electronic-Solution (e-solution) for Senior and WIC FMNP!

Beginning 2025, Alaska is working with Healthy Together to launch an e-solution for S/FMNP. Farmers will be able to download the Healthy Together APP onto any number of iOS or Android devices and set up direct deposit to accept payments directly. Farmers will scan a QR code on the participant's phone or card to accept payment. Participants will be required to enter their PIN in order to securely process the payment.

Benefit Distribution:

The State of Alaska WIC Program has partnered with several agencies across Alaska to accept applications and issue program benefits. FMNP benefits are issued to low-income women, infants, and children in regions where there are authorized farmers. SFMNP benefits are issued by senior distribution agencies such as senior housing facilities and senior centers. Senior Distribution Agencies may be authorized only if there is an authorized farm within 20 miles to ensure accessibility and reasonable access for seniors. For more information on distribution locations, please contact the State WIC Office at (907) 465-3100. Participants will receive their annual FMNP benefit either through their mobile device or through a card with a QR code.

FMNP Benefit Value:

Each FMNP benefit is worth $30. Eligible applicants will receive a total value of $30 to use between July 1st and October 31st. Partial purchase is allowed and benefits remaining will be accessible by participant via APP.

SFMNP Benefit Value:

Each SFMNP benefit is worth $40. Eligible applicants will receive a total value of $40 to use between July 1st and October 31st. Partial purchase is allowed and benefits remaining will be accessible by participant via APP.

QR Code Examples:

QR Codes can be scanned on screen or on card. Security and proper management of the FMNP funds is vitally important, so to ensure transactions are secure:

- Shoppers cannot take a screenshot of their QR codes.
- Each time a shopper wants to make a transaction a unique QR code will be generated on their device.

- QR codes expire after some time so if the transaction takes longer than 5 minutes, for example, then a new QR code would be generated.
- Farmers that scan an invalid or expired QR code will be alerted and the transaction will not be processed.
- If a shopper does not have sufficient funds for the transaction the farmer will be alerted and the transaction will not be processed.

Farmer Reimbursement Process:

To ensure prompt payment, the State of Alaska encourages farmers to provide direct deposit information during the onboarding process. Farmers will be able to securely log into their bank accounts through a safe, in-app experience provided by the State of Alaska. Rather than storing sensitive banking details, a secure token linked to the farmer's account and routing number will be generated and stored. This token will be used when processing payments. The farmer's actual banking information will remain secure and will only be stored by our trusted payment processor.

IMPORTANT: It is your responsibility to ensure all benefits are submitted for reimbursement at your bank of choice. The State of Alaska is not responsible for bank policies, procedures, and/or fees.

Note: Fees applied by your bank will not be reimbursed under any circumstance by the State of Alaska.

Found QR Code Card

If a QR card is lost, the existing QR code can be canceled or voided, and a new card can be issued to the shopper, along with their remaining balance. If any FMNP or SFMNP QR code cards are found, please notify the State WIC Office immediately.

Void or Cancel QR Code

In the instance of a lost QR Code card, please contact the nearest local distribution agency or the State of Alaska WIC to deactivate the QR code. The local agency will re-assign a new QR code to the user and transfer any remaining balance. All voided QR Codes should be reported to the State WIC Office within 3 days.

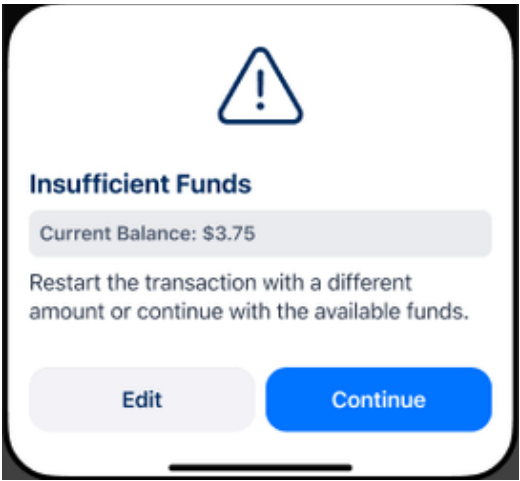

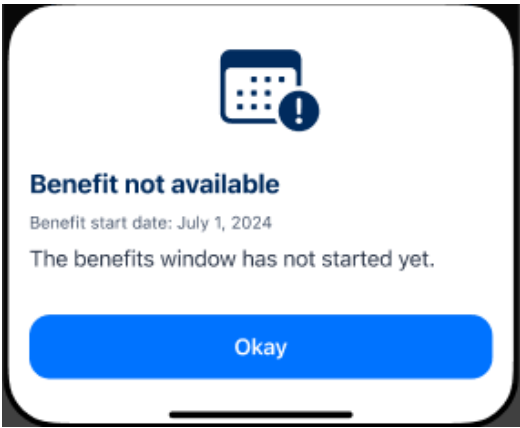

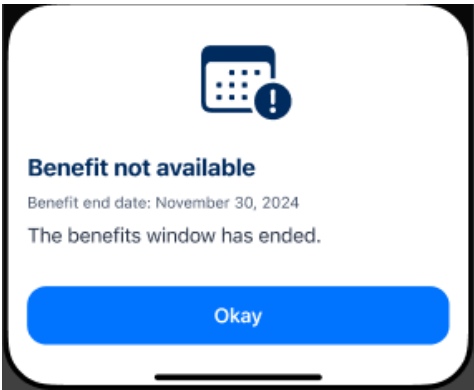

Preventing and Correcting Errors

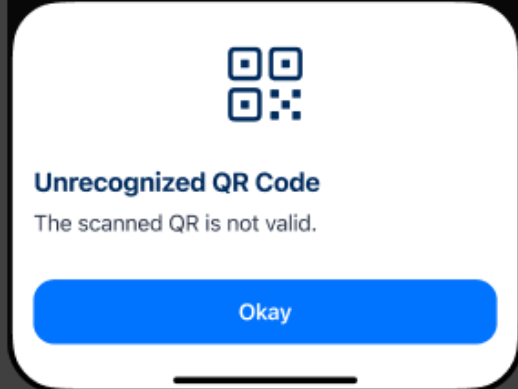

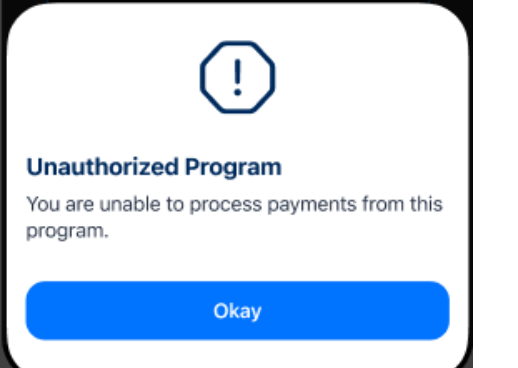

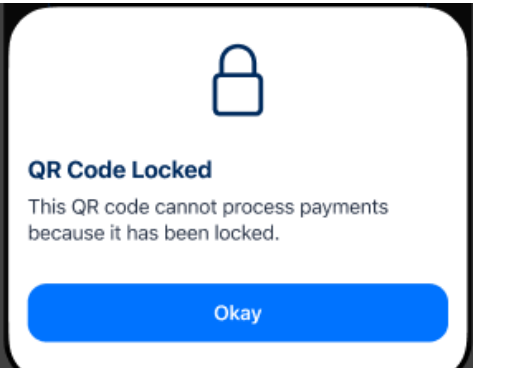

QR Codes are “pre-edited” (screened for errors) by the State of Alaska and Healthy Together. Errors may be correctable.

Table 1: Potential QR Code Scanning Errors

There are a number of potential helpful errors you may encounter when scanning QR codes for things like the participant’s balance having insufficient funds for the transaction amount, the transaction happening outside of the benefit window, or invalid or unauthorized QR codes scanned.

The table below provides QR Code scanning errors and related solutions.

L. Administrative Appeals

The WIC Program will provide written notice of adverse action to be taken during the farmer-vendor or farmers' market agreement period.

The State agency will provide farmer-vendors and/or farmers' markets with not less than 15 days advance written notice by email and/or certified mail of adverse action to be taken during the agreement period. Adverse action will be implemented after the 15-day advance notice period has elapsed. No advance notice will be provided for a disqualification due to a conviction of trafficking, selling firearms, alcohol, or illegal substances in exchange for FMNP and/or SFMNP benefits.

A farmer-vendor or farmers' market may request an administrative appeal for the following:
